Worksheet 3 - Angela Carter

Review: Lecture 2
In Lecture 2, Prof. Mulvey-Robe Chamber."	erts referenced the description of the torture room in "The Bloody
·	s quotation that depicts the heroine's reaction to the room, blank spaces:
statuary and I was almost con	iden were, I saw, displayed as grandly as if they were items of isoled, then, and almost myself that I might have of his perversity, that he had installed these monstrous items here only for contemplation."
Recall
Answer these questions after	watching the video lecture to check how much you remember.
-	ences a famous, female martyr who was beheaded and thereby e Bloody Chamber". What is the name of this Saint?  c) St. Clotilde d) St. Christina
<ul><li>2. What is the name of the open</li><li>a) Tristan and Isolde</li><li>b) The Magic Flute</li></ul>	era performance referenced in "The Bloody Chamber"? c) The Marriage of Figaro d) Don Giovanni
<ul><li>3. How is the character of the</li><li>a) Strangled</li><li>b) Stabbed</li></ul>	opera singer in "The Bloody Chamber" killed? c) Drowned d) Hanged
<ul><li>4. What is the last word in the</li><li>a) Hope</li><li>b) Guilt</li></ul>	story, "The Bloody Chamber". c) Shame d) Danger
Analysis

5. In the lecture [4.--5.__], Professor Mulvey-Roberts explains how Carter "plays with intertextuality"; or "interconnection with other texts." A literary allusion can also reference historical figures, works or events. Look at the following list of allusions within the story "The Bloody Chamber".

How is allusion used to foreshadow events to come in the story, or create dramatic irony where the audience is privy to information which the protagonist is not aware of? Write down your ideas in the tables below. First, explain the similarity or connection between the allusion and the literary elements in "The Bloody Chamber". The first one has been done for you.

1. The name of the previous wife, the Romanian countess, is named after the title of Gothic novella "Carmilla" written by Sheridan La Fenu (1872).
Similarity or connection: The character in "Carmilla" is a female vampire who preys on young women.
Device: This is an example of dramatic irony, as the audience is aware of the connection between the probably bloody death of the countess and predatory nature of the Marquis just before the heroine realises what has happened to her predecessor.
Effect: This could suggest to the reader that the Romanian countess was perhaps (at least initially) a willing participant in some of the Marquis's darker sexual games.
2. The narrator describes her mother as "a medusa", (a Greek, mythical monster) when she bursts into the courtyard.
Similarity or connection:
Device:
Effect:
3. The painting the heroine sees is of "Saint Cecilia", the Christian martyr and patron saint of musicians and poets who was beheaded.
Similarity or connection:
Device:
Effect:

the wife, which makes the action seem even more tragic and brutal.

the term sadism.
Similarity or connection:
Device:
Effect: The horror that the audience feel at the torturous actions of the Marquis are further intensified by the fact that his methods are "matched" to the interests, passions or personality of

4. The Marquis is based on a historical figure, The Marquis De Sade (1740-1814), a

French nobleman whose perverse sexual preferences and erotic writings gave rise to

Evaluation

7. "Although Carter's stories depict female sexuality and pleasure, they still fail to challenge the views of a patriarchal society since female characters are still victims of male sexuality." Do you agree with this statement? Why/ why not? Make a mind map of your ideas answering this question.

Consider:

- How is female sexuality and pleasure depicted within "The Bloody Chamber" and other stories in the collection?
- Does this aspect of the stories contribute to Carter's feminist message?
- Is this in some way less effective if the females are still victims, even if only at the beginning of the stories?

You might consider:

- The representations of female sexuality and victimisation in "The Bloody Chamber" and other stories
- The narrative structure of these stories
- An evaluation of the similarities and differences between these stories and the original fairy tales which they aim to subvert

Challenge: Read an example of literary criticism that responded directly to the critique of Carter's feminism, and consider how Wardle's perspective supports your answer (remember to cite appropriately):

https://www.polyphonyjournal.com/post/critiques-of-the-sadean-male-in-angela-carter-s-the-bloody-chamber

Glossary

- martyr (noun) a person who is killed because of their religious or other beliefs.
- Liebestod German for "love death" and the title of the final, dramatic music from the 1859 opera Tristan und Isolde by Richard Wagner.
- sadistic (adjective) deriving pleasure from inflicting pain, suffering, or humiliation on others.
- intertextuality the shaping of a text's meaning by another text; the interconnection between similar or related works of literature that reflect and influence an audience's interpretation of the text.
- depredations the acts of preying upon, ravaging or damaging something or someone
- inexorability the state of not being persuaded, moved, or stopped
- Iron Maiden An instrument of torture consisting of a coffin-shaped box lined with iron spike